

The following information is extracted from the trial transcript of the case of James Allen Dasher v. The State of Florida, Case No.82-21598. The Family of Mr. Dasher is seeking to gain legal review of his convictions, sentences and current incarceration for more than 33 years, relating to what appears to this Family as a total miscarriage of justice. While James Allen Dasher was subject to a trial by tainted jury, in that the jury was admittedly exposed to the Prosecutors during recess of court, outside of court, and without the presence of Defense Counsel, the presiding Judge allowed the trial to continue, with James Dasher protesting to his Defense Counsel, one of the jurors being asleep through significant portions of the trial. The Victim stated to Police and her family on the night of the crimes charged to James Allen Dasher, and at trial “It sounded like a guy name Willie”, she and her husband knew. Along with no investigation of the person named by the Victim “Willie”, the Victim suggested places and items for the lifting of finger prints that were collected inside the bedroom where the crimes took place; a Clothing Hamper, just under the window used by the perpetrator for entrance to the room; Her Purse, searched and dumped out on the floor; a TV, turned off to remove lighting from the room; and a Dresser, searched for other items of value in the course of burglarizing the home, were all the most significant places that finger prints were collected from. None of these finger prints match James Allen Dasher, the Victim or anyone residing in the home.

On the night of the crimes the Victim was medically examined, from which an analysis was professionally presented in court. The findings from that analysis, though positive for the presence of ejaculation, nothing of that presentation was presented as a connection to James Allen Dasher having committed the crimes charged. With these and many other additional egregious constitutional violations having been the premise upon which James Allen Dasher was sentenced to serve three (3) life sentences imprisonment, without the benefit of Effective Assistance Of Counsel, to challenge the quality and validity of trial as well as the subsequent appellate review containing none of these violations, James Allen Dasher is indeed an additional victim of the heinous crimes for which he was charged, tried, convicted of and sentenced for.
